"Last night the enemy guns were active against our positions and there were heavy artillery duels in various sectors of the battle area.

"Near Neuve Chapelle small parties of German soldiers were entering our front trenches at two points but at once were driven out by a counter-attack, leaving a few wounded in our hands.

SIX ATTACKS BY 80,000 RUSSIANS BEATEN BACK, BERLIN REPORTS

Army Group Under Prince Leopold Checks Great Onrush—Von Linsingen Tries to Regain Lost Ground.

BERLIN, July 19 (by wireless to Bayville)—Attacks by two Russian army corps—40,000 men—on German positions east of Gorodiche, in the Baranovich region, were delivered yesterday, but failed to gain ground, the War Office announced today. The battle is still in progress.

The Russians have resumed their attack southeast of Vladimir-Volynsk in Southern Volynia and succeeded in penetrating Gen. von Linsingen's lines northeast of Smolensk, but are being vigorously counter-attacked by the Germans. The German War Office statement is as follows:

"Army Group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg—The situation generally is unchanged.

"Army Group of Prince Leopold of Bavaria—The Russians have renewed their attacks in this region. Since yesterday afternoon they have attacked six times in vain with two army corps on the front of Kirovka and Vygoda, to the east of Gorodiche. Further attacks are in progress.

"The attacking waves of two divisions ebbed back and forth several times before our strong positions to the northwest of Lachovochy. The losses of the enemy were the heaviest.

"Army Group of Gen. von Linsingen—Russian attacks northeast of Smolensk at first gained

"Northeast of Smolensk and at several other points our artillery shelled the enemy's front lines and communication trenches."

Until now British troops have been thrusting uphill. Today they have the advantage of fighting from above on an enemy on lower ground.

They have the added advantage of attacking an enemy unaided by natural cover, and now control the permanent steel and concrete constructed trenches protected in the long months of the deadlock in the line.

MORE RUSSIAN GAINS NEAR GALICIAN BORDER AND IN THE CAUCASUS

PETROGRAD, July 18 (via London)—Russian troops continued to advance against the Germans in the region of the River Slesneka and the River Beldurovka, in Southern Volynia, the Russian official statement announced today. Following is the text of the statement:

"In the district of Krevu an enemy aeroplane was hit by our artillery fire. It fell within the enemy lines.

"In the districts northeast and southwest of Baranovich there were artillery duels and encounters between advance guards. We made small advances at some points.

"In the region of the River Slesneka and the River Beldurovka our advance continues successfully.

"The advance of our Caucasian army continues. One of our patrols captured thirty-one Turkish officers on the Syvasak road."

RUSSIAN TROOPS IN FRANCE PENETRATE GERMAN TRENCHES

Drive Out the Foe With Hand Grenades, Says the Paris War Office—Germans Attack at Many Points.

PARIS, July 18.—Russians reconnoitering at Auberville, in the Champagne, says the French official statement issued this afternoon, penetrated the German trenches and cleared them with hand grenades. The Russians took some prisoners. A German attempt to attack near Lihone, north of Chaumes, was arrested by French infantry fire.

On the right bank of the Meuse, in the Verdun region, German preparations to attack Thiaumont works were stopped by artillery fire. Two German aeroplanes were shot down in the Somme region.

DENIES SHE BOUGHT BLALOCK'S SILK SHIRTS

Mrs. Irwin Decides to Fight Suit for Alienation Brought by Wife.

Mrs. Grace Irwin, who is being sued for $100,000 by Mrs. Jennie V. Blalock on the charge that she alienated the affections of James W. Blalock, a Pacific coast turfman, was allowed today by Justice Clark in the Supreme Court to reopen the default and fight the case.

Mrs. Irwin also submitted papers outlining her defense. As to the specific charge that Mrs. Irwin had given Blalock $1,100 with which to buy a race named "Brighouse," Mrs. Irwin said:

"The truth about Brighouse is that Mr. Blalock told me that the horse could be bought for $1,100, and that that sum was far below its real value. I relied upon his advice and gave him $1,100 with which to buy the horse. He afterward told me that he had shipped to animal to my stables in San Francisco. Brighouse was left at the post the very first race he ran under my colors."

Mrs. Irwin also denied that she had ever bought Blalock any silk shirts, automobiles and late suppers when in Reno.

KAISER APPEALS TO HIS PEOPLE TO BE FIRM IN CRISIS

"Iron Hurricane" Is Raging Against His Army, He Tells Them.

DENOUNCES ENGLISH.

"War After War" Coming, Even With Victory, He Predicts.

LONDON, July 18.—A letter from Kaiser Wilhelm passionately appealing to the German people to stand firm and unswerving no matter how the tide of battle flows, has been printed in all the German papers. The letter was circulated by the semi-official Wolff News Agency.

Dated from the front in the west, the letter says in part:

"The battle is raging, huge beyond all previous imagination. Rejuvenated, perfectly equipped with all they want, Russia's armies again have broken against our bulwarks in the east. This has eased the situation for Italy. France has experienced a regeneration in this war of which she hardly believed herself capable. She has dragged her dilatory English ally into joining the offensive on the Somme, and whatever inward worth the British army has it now has an abundance of artillery.

"The iron hurricane rages against our brave German men at the Somme. Negroes and white men come upon us in waves after wave, in ever fresh storms, wild and sullen. Everything is at stake. The ice cold laborers on the Thame river for our boldest thoughts. The health and life of our women and our children are menaced. The depths of the ocean now are open to us. Should we be victorious there is threatening 'war after the war' when the best energies and power of the nation, now expressed by its joy in arms, shall be taxed to the utmost to meet raw force, hatred and cunning."

"What, German people, is your duty in this hour? Two army wants no exhortations. It has fought superbly. It will fight until final victory. But the people at home—this is their duty: To suffer in silence, to bear their renunciations with dignity. Those at home are not all doing these things. Not all are alive to the tremendous seriousness of the time. Are our people at home the same people as at the beginning of the war? The writer fears not. Let us remember that this is an ordinary rupture of ordinary life. It is the hour of destiny for our Fatherland, the hour which will influence us for centuries. We must unite in opposition to the entire world. We must all co-operate in the struggle."

"Any man or woman who hangs his or her head or suffers despondency to enter his soul is guilty now of treason. Every word of complaint or discouragement is a crime against our fathers, our sons and our brothers. Let us show the greatness of the German nation. Do not jeopardize everything by petty squabbling. It is no time for intestine strife. But it is time for holding together. In this hour the best blood of the nation, mature men and budding youths, are presenting their breasts to the iron hail of the English, Russian and African hordes. Everything is at stake."

This is in strange contradiction to reports from German sources that the British offensive has reached its high water mark. It is taken here to show conclusively that Germany is thoroughly alarmed.

TARANTULA FAMILY ATTACKED HARTIGAN

Commissioner Nearly Lost Life After He Was Bitten Five Weeks Ago—Virus Saved Him.

Commissioner of Weights and Measures Joseph Hartigan is back at his desk again after nearly taking the count in a battle with a family of tarantulas five weeks ago. Commissioner Hartigan stuck his right arm into a barrel at the East River Warehouse Company's plant to see if the bottom was where a bottom should be. A father and mother tarantula and their four lusty offspring—later captured and preserved under glass—made a concerted attack on the Commissioner's hand, with the result that he had to be sent to the Anna May private hospital for treatment.

For a time it was thought he would lose the arm, which swelled until it looked more like a leg, but by an injection of a virus concocted from the poison of a cobra and a copperhead snake the tarantula venom was offset and recovery began.
